Sussex Partnership Trust and Salomons Centre for Applied Psychology are delighted to announce this new six day module on Cognitive-Analytic Therapy.

Those completing this module should have a good, foundational understanding of CAT theory and practice. Ideas from the approach should become usable both for direct work with clients and in indirect and consultative work with teams. The teaching will be delivered by experienced and senior Cognitive-Analytic therapists. Teaching will include didactic, experiential, role play and case-based work to support a thoughtful integration of the personal and professional, and the development of human and effective clinicians.
